England's Cabinet Decides No Further Concessions Until Chaos Ends

Chamberlain Approves Signal That Brought Warships' Fire at Nanking

LONDON, March 28. (P)—The British Cabinet decided today to take a firm stand in China and to make no further concessions until the present "anarchical" conditions have ended and the Chinese authorities have proved themselves capable of establishing order.

Leaving a two-hour meeting of the Cabinet Ministers in Downing street, Foreign Secretary Chamberlain crossed to the House of Commons and there assured the members that there would be no further surrender of British rights in China until the Chinese could preserve order wherever their authority exists.

PRAISES AMERICANS

In the course of his address, Sir Austen declared that he had not the least doubt that the action of the two American bluejackets who signaled the American and British to the Yangtze open fire on Chinese ships at Nanking the day before, and the resulting fire had saved the lives of the foreign refugees on Nanking Hill.

"The signalers were Henry G. Warner, 22, of the U.S. Navy, and Taylor of Lincoln, Cal., both attached to the destroyer William B. Preston."

The Secretary said that the shells fire from the American destroyers Noa and William B. Preston and the British cruiser Euryalus took effect around the Soonyi compound in an area uninhabited by any civilian population.

ASK MORE DETAILS

Members of the House pressed the Foreign Secretary for further details of the British policy with regard to the future of Shanghai. They were informed that as far as Britain's entire relation to the Chinese situation, asserting that the foreign community in Shanghai was anxiously waiting reassurances from the government to its fate.

Sir Austen explained that there no British concession at Shanghai as at Nanking, but that British in-interests centered in the international settlement the future of which could not be foreseen, Dr. Austen said with the other interested powers.

"No negotiations are progressing at present," he said, "nor is it possible to negotiate fruitfully in the present anarchical conditions."

FRANCE PLANS TO DEFEND SHANGHAI CONCESSIONS

PARIS, March 28. (P)—French reinforcements have been ordered from Tonkin, Annam, to support the already sizable French force now protecting France's concession.

The reinforcements will consist of white colonial troops plus a force of Annamites, who are considered here the most loyal colonial troops capable of being swerved by Cantonese propaganda.

It was made clear at the Foreign Office today that France intends to defend her concession in Shanghai against any Chinese aggression and that she will stand by the terms of evacuation, as has been reported.

The French already have more than 3,500 troops defending the Shanghai concession.

JAPAN PEERS DEMAND STRONG HAND IN CHINA

Osawara, 1927, by Chicago Tribune]

TOKIO, March 28. (Exclusive)—An influential section of the House of Peers today sent a despatch to Baron Kiyuro Shidehara, the Japanese Foreign Minister, demanding a strong policy on China and demanding that the Baron as personally responsible for the lack of protection for the Japanese residents at Nanking.

The newspaper Asahi states that in the order, Gen. Chang Kai-Shek, the Nationalist commander, taking immediate steps to restore order, realizing the gravity of the recent incidents, "Japan would be glad to mediate between China and the other powers symmetrically and fraternally, otherwise the Nationalists will be unable to recover their lost prestige."

Osawara paper Jiji states that the outrages at Nanking following those at Hankow and Kuklung entirely disprove the reliability of the Chinese. It discloses uniformly that only the Chinese are the founders of the present violence.

Kai-shek, Cantonese commander-in-chief, had attended the mass meeting in the native city, which aroused apprehension. The meeting adopted resolutions against the foreign settlement and demanded retrocession of the foreign settlement but urged the Cantonese government to negotiate with powers to that end.

From Hongkong, Consul-General Lochart wired in a delayed message that Cantonese Foreign Minister Chen had asked him to convey to Washington sincere regret of the loss of an American citizen at Nanking. "There is no evidence of whether or not these acts were committed by northern or Nationalist troops."

"Chen has stated that he will issue a statement as soon as the facts of the incident are definitely established," the message added.

Advices from both Hankow and Hangkow, where Americans had been gathered to meet the effect that there is radical agitation within the Nationalist party itself against the moderate group. Part of the attack is directed specifically against Chang because of his moderation.

A British steamer bearing refugees from Hankow was commanded by Putnam, who put his crew ashore to allow for movement to Shanghai.

The British destroyer Wyvern intercepted the steamer at Kuklung, driving off the troops but retaining their armament and supplies. The Nationalists announced that they had brought down the gunboats in Wulabao, Monocacy and El Cano.

A British steamer bearing refugees from Hankow, was commanded by Putnam, who put his crew ashore to allow for movement to Shanghai.

The British destroyer Wyvern, having decided to proceed to Foochow, despite repeated orders to return to the Yangtze, was having trouble with the Chinese.

A Japanese warship is en route there in addition to the Bulmer, although Putnam said there had been no disaster.

CAUSE OF ALARM

Activities of the so-called "labor corps" in the Shanghai area are shown in messages from Consul-General Gause to have prompted some of the alarm in the foreign settlement.

"They are not Communists and many are armed," he said, adding that there are "considerable numbers in the Chinese area."

Although Chang Kai-Shek is reported to be doing his best to maintain order, there would be no attack on the settlement, it remains an open question whether he can handle the situation, Gause advised in the statement.

Refugees still were pouring into Shanghai from river ports and efforts continued to reach missionaries in outlying villages. Destroyers were sent to get in touch with them. None had been reached except those in Nanking and one or two points along the river, reports having been moated.

WOMAN ESCAPES DEATH

Mme. Captain, French wife of an official in the Chinese post office, who remained at Nanking a day later than the other refugees, also went through harrowing experiences but escaped with her life and arrived here today.

She said that when the attack on the foreigners was at its height, the Chinese soldiers yelled "We want to kill. We want to blow up the church priest, who had been found in China told her that the Nanking outbreak of anti-foreign feeling was worse than that of the Boxer uprising in 1900.

Miss Captain said that everything was quiet after the bombardment by the British and American warships, but that on the next night there was a wholesale looting of the better houses.

She said that the latest types of Chinese seemed to be armed.

sition as the other non-European powers, but should the navy be destroyed the national defense rests entirely with the land forces and every man, woman and child would be mobilized to defend the Japanese shores.

It is obvious that Lord Cecil's veiled warnings were meant for trading purposes and the carrying of the French thesis on land armaments will not immediately disrupt the paraparians. The extent of M. Paul Boncour's compromise on naval items will determine the British willingness to accept the military program.

How to Sell More

One of the "secrets" of successful salesmanship is to call on as many prospects each day as possible. Obviously, the more you TRY to sell, the more you WILL sell.

Take the case of Mr. C. Out of ten calls a day he averaged two sales. If only he could cover more ground, it was clear that the law of averages would operate to his advantage. So he purchased a good used car on easy payments. Now he talks to fourteen or fifteen, sometimes sixteen, prospects a day, and his sales show an increase of approximately 50%. Moreover, the car has cost him nothing to date—increased profits are paying for it!

NEW YORK, March 28. (P)—Immigration evacuation of Canton Christian College and the entire foreign settlement of Shamen in the city of Canton loomed as a possibility today in a telegram received at the New York office of the college, which noted that the general situation was grave.

"Because of the Nanking and Bias

Bay incidents several days ago, when Chinese pirates were driven off Bias Bay by British naval forces, consider- able apprehension was felt at the moment. For all is quiet, but the general situation is considered critical and immediate evacuation may be necessary."

In Shamen, an island colony, there are more than 180 American mis-

NEW THREAT MADE BY NATIONALIST CHIEFS

HONGKONG, March 28. (P)—The Nationalist government at Canton, which is threatening measures to deal with "British violence" as a consequence of last week's raid by a British punitive expedition on Bias Bay, the pirate lair near Hongkong, causing the destruction of 150 houses and sinking more than fifty Chinese junks. The raid was participated in by four warships, 300 men and several airplanes from the aircraft carrier Hermes flying over.

Previous to the raid the British issued an order to the residents to evacuate, following which a landing party under cover of the ship's guns, using explosives, practically obliter- ated the entire town. Before the aircraft carrier returned the outlying villages and many junks.

The Chinese populace retreated to adjacent hills and watched the spec- tacle without attempting resistance.

SAPIRO TELLS LIFE STORY TO JURORS IN FORD SUIT

News Being Left Orphan and Traces Career Through Maze of Farm Organizations

DETROIT. March 28. (P)—Aaron Sapiro, sleek-haired, 42, went on the witness stand late today to relate the story of his $1,000,000 libel suit against Henry Ford. It is a picture of a most unpromising start which culminated in a nationally recognized success which he left with the jurors, as his narration was broken by adjournment before he could tell any of the story of asserted personal harm and injury to his health and to his career as an organizer of farmers' co-operatives done in print in Ford's weekly, the Dearborn Independent.

He is the last part of the story, and a half tomorrow will be the day when Harry Gallagher, counsel for Ford, adjourned.

He turned far forward in the chair, hands clasping a roll of paper in his lap. A vivid flush spread over his face as he cracked a smile.

Assembly Sends Governor
Ten Proposals

SACRAMENTO, MARCH 28. (P)—Dogs may continue to ride on running boards of automobiles without a special cage, it was decided by the Senate Motor Vehicles Committee today.

By a vote of 5 to 4 the committee tabled a bill of Assemblyman Reindollar of San Rafael, which passed the Assembly, that proposed to make it mandatory to install a special framework on all automobiles which carried dogs.

to permit the treasurers to deposit district funds under the same procedure as county treasurers and taking security for such amounts as the bill provides.

Assembly Bill No. 586, Foster, amending the same act to provide for inclusion of land within such districts after organization.

Assembly Bill No. 588, Foster, amending the same act to provide for inclusion of land within such districts after organization.

A pair of measures by Senator Johnson designed to place the same safeguards around building and loan associations that banks have been given final passage by the Senate.

One of the bills would make it a felony for any officer, employee or director of a building and loan association to accept a gift for any person loan from his association. This is designed to stop the procuring of loans by officers or employees who have been offered bribes to obtain loans.

The other measure would make it a misdemeanor to circulate false statements in respect to building and loan associations. This is the same as the banking law relative to circulating false reports.

ONE BILL AND SIGNS SIX

SACRAMENTO, MARCH 28. (P)—Gov. Young today vetoed one Senate bill and signed six others.

The vetoed measure was Senate Bill 202, by Senator Charles W. Lyon of Los Angeles, by which it was proposed to authorize library trustees to form a board of trustees to administer to public libraries.

The approved measures included:

Senate Bill 72, Breed.

To permit investment of surplus funds of utility districts in the same manner as funds of cities and counties.

Senate Bill 220, Storer.

Prohibiting transportation companies from exacting any mortgage or other lien on their property for any service or any indebtedness for a period of more than twelve months without approval of the state water commission.

Senate Bill 494, Handy.

Senate government bill.

Senate Bill 580, Handy.

Colusa county government bill.

Senate Bill 584, Lyon.

Amending the pure-food law to provide that regulations of the Secretary of Agriculture shall define adulteration, instead of the present law providing for the contamination of food by any means for a period of more than twelve months without approval of the food and drug administration.

Senate Bill 581, Lyon.

Senate government bill.

Senate Bill 582, Weller.

Providing for publication of notices to stockholders of corporations at the principal place of business instead of designated place of business provided in present law.

Senate Bill 583, Weller.

Prohibiting transportation companies from exacting any mortgage or other lien on their property for any service or any indebtedness for a period of more than twelve months without approval of the state water commission.

Senate Bill 585, Handy.

Senate government bill.

Senate Bill 586, Weller.

Amending the death registration act which provides for signing death certificates after investigation in certain cases.

Senate Bill No. 587, Weller.

Amending the irrigation district act to permit cities or cities and towns to issue bonds for water projects for ex-service men on the same conditions which County Supervisors may now do so.

Senate Bill No. 588, Williamson.

Minor clerical changes in lists and assembly bills.

Senate Bill No. 589, Minter.

Amending the irrigation district act to permit the production of real property sold at delinquent assessment sales.

It is quite probable that the Indians will be the ones to start the season right.

Both the Angels and Indians possess powerful hitting squads and there should be quite a number of base knocks today if the hurlers are not in their best form. The Los Angeles and Seattle clubs are both picked to finish in the first three of this year's race, so the fans who trek out to Wrigley Field this afternoon will get a look at two clubs generally considered the best in the circuit.

ADDED ATTRACTION

As a special added attraction Harry A. Williams assigned "Choy" Davis as one of the umpires for the Angels-Indian contest. "Choy" will no doubt knock the boys out of their seats as he lets fall the fans of this signal honor which Prexy Williams did them when he was assigning his arbiters for the opening series. Ed Goss, who is the high-spirited example in the dugout because of his 210 pounds, will be "Choy's"umping mate. Goss feels that he is a big enough attraction to himself, so he does not give the boys the white socks.

"Choy" is one of the unknowns in the game that wears white socks, so it is his duty to tell the fans of this signal honor which Prexy Williams did them when he was assigning his arbiters for the opening series. Ed Goss, who is the high-spirited example in the dugout because of his 210 pounds, will be "Choy's"umping mate. Goss feels that he is a big enough attraction to himself, so he does not give the boys the white socks.

He that is it may, Mister Happlus O'Connor, who annually makes a tour of the baseball camps for his own edification and at great expense to himself, has just come to bat with a few predictions concerning the opening season. After announcing what everybody knows, to wit and to wit, that San Francisco is the best baseball team in the major leagues, he finds made plenty of sugar in spite of the fact that they finished in the cellar last season. Hap picks 'em to finish as follows:

(1.) Los Angeles.

Pomona Team Has Fighting Chance in Meet

STREHLE HOPES FOR TRACK WIN

Second and Third Place Men May Save Sagehens

Conference Champs Strong in Field Events

To Battle Oxy for Honors in Saturday Meet

BY BRAVEN DYER
After considerable mathematics, Bob Strehle, Pomona College track coach, has it all figured out that his athletes may be able to win the annual Southern California Inter-collegiate track and field meet which is slated for Saturday afternoon at the Coliseum. Occidental is the popular favorite as it has been in several years, but several sure first-place men, but Strehle has a lot of second, third and fourth-place athletes who will come in mighty handy.

Pomona's strength lies in the field where Sagehens are likely to score five first places. Fred Neher is slated to win the hammer, Link Hall the discus, Dick Bell the high jump, Lee Williams or French the broad jump and Lillibridge the vault. That's 20 points to start with.

STRONG IN HAMMER

Neher and Phelps are slated for third and fourth in the hammer. Turner may pick up a point in the discus, Maxwell or Turner should place in the high jump and Crosby looks good for second or third in the pole vault. In the sprints either Williams or French—depending on which doesn't take first—should grab second or third in the broad jump. Williams is also figured for third in the javelin. That's an additional 14 points to go in the field.

On the track Pomona does not figure to take a first place but Strehle can count with second and third-place men. Neher is likely to score in the dashes, while Hearn is among the three best quarter-milers in the circuit. Corwin should snag second or third in the half-mile, while Fisher and Phelps should probably grab a point or so in the miles. Banchik should take second or third in the two-mile. Bell may win second in the high hurdles and Turner ought to place fourth. In the 100 French has the total of 11. The possible points on the track for a grand total of 57.

MUST DO THEIR BEST

It will take 60 points or thereabouts to win the meet. Pomona can probably take third in the relay for two additional digits. In order to make this a close race, Sagehen athletes must perform right to a man as Occidental figures to count at 45 points from first and second-place men alone.

Following are the best marks registered in Southern Conference meets this season with second-best records also listed:

100-yard dash—Schultz (C.T.) 9.75; Pinney (P.) and Pendleton (W.) 10. flat.

220-yard dash—Schultz (C.T.) 21.5; Pinney (P.) 22.5; Pendleton (U.C.L.A.) 21.5; Sat; Schweizer (O.) 21.5.

880-yard run—Sevel (O.) 1m. 38.5; Curtis (E.) 1m. 39.5.

Million-dollar—Neher (O.) 4m. 35.25; Dots (W.) 4m. 36.

Two-mile run—Waite (U.C.L.A.) 9m. 54s.; Rencher (P.) 10m. 16.5s.

110-yard hurdles—Tanner (O.) 15.25; Bell (P.) 15.5s.

Low hurdles—Tanner (O.) 23.15; French (P.) 25.4s. (See below.)

Relay—Occidental, 3m. 23s. (short track); Caltech, 3m. 26.5s. (half track); Stanford, 3m. 27s.

Hammer throw—Heimdal (P.) 138ft. 10in.; Ford (R.) 132ft. 8in.

Discus throw—Hall (P.) 134ft. 8in.; Drummon (U.C.L.A.) 130ft. 7ft.

Shot put—Webb (O.) 42ft. 63in.; Mots (S.D.) 41ft. 10 1-4in.

Javelin throw—Hoover (C.T.) 189ft. 14 1/2in.; Anderson (C.T.) 189ft. 8in.

High jump—Bell (P.) 6ft. 2 1-4in.; Tanner (O.) and Kee (U.C.L.A.) 6ft. 11in.

Broad jump—Williams (P.) 22ft. 6 5-8in.; French (P.) 22ft. 4in.

Pole vault—Lillibridge (P.) 12ft. 5-8in.; Crosby (O.) 12ft.

In low hurdles Webb (O.) although never a first-place winner, has run faster than French, despite the fact that French was in the race for second to Tanner. On the 220-yard dash, Darling (C.T.) defeated Pinney (P.) the only time the two men ever ran the race and it was foreseen as the second best running runner.

First places—Occidental, six.

Pomona, five; Caltech, three; U.C.L.A., two.

Second places—Pomona, five; Occidental, three; Redlands, three; Caltech, three; U.C.L.A., Whittier, one; San Diego, one.

Possible point total from first and second places—Occidental, 45; Pomona, 40; Caltech, 24; U.C.L.A., 16.

SAGEHENS GO BACK TO TRACK DRILLS

POMONA COLLEGE (Claremont) March 28. (Exclusive)—Having taken the conference championship safely away, the Pomona team will now go to its final week of training today, preparatory to the annual Southern Conference meet at the Coliseum Saturday. The Sagehens clinched the title when the conference's team in a dual meet at Patterson Field Saturday, thus maintaining a clear slate for the season.

Some twenty-eight men will represent Pomona at the Coliseum Saturday.

First places—Bell, French, Maxwell, Turner, hurdles; F. Phelps, New, Aller, quarter; Böewin, Winn, half; White, mile; Rencher, Kennedy, Sorenson, two; and Jones, Rencher, Corwin, H. Phelps, F. Phelps, Aller, relay.

In the field, Lillibridge, Crosby, Baird, pole vault; Turner, Bell, high jump; French, Williams, broad jump; Williams, Neher, javelin; Heimdal, Neher.

CANZONERI WILL BOX BUD AGAIN

New Zealand Boxer Displays Power in Opener

CHICAGO, March 28. (AP)—A return match with Bud Taylor of Terra Haute for the bantamweight championship was promised by Tony Canzoneri and his manager before they left today for the home in New York. Manager Sam Goldstein said he would send back the signed contract as soon as he got home. Another Canzoneri match was also arranged for the little New Yorker to meet "Chick" Suggs here on April 3. Taylor and Abe Attell Goldstein will go ten rounds on the same card.

Phelps, hammer: Cowen, Radham, Neher, Neher, all did well.

The freshman team also had its big meet of the season this week, running for the last time in the frosh conference which is scheduled to be held here. The Sagehicks haven't had very good luck, and probably can't expect anything better than a third or fourth in the meet. Last year's team nosed out Oxy to win the meet. Henry Gray and Rencher stand with it, both men who haven't been able to run for some time, because of injuries, were in suits today and should be in shape for the meet.

ANGELENO ON VISIT TO MINES

"Good-Will" Trade Tourists
Reach Prescott

First Day in Arizona Ends
With Banquet

McGarry, in Speech, Points
to Neighborly Needs

PRESCOTT (Ariz.) March 28. (Exclusive) — Cementing a spirit of friendliness and co-operation which has been fostered between the two States during the last several years, the third "good-will" trade tour of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce arrived here yesterday two strong morning, after having spent yesterday viewing the wonders of the Grand Canyon.

The visitors were welcomed by local business men and then taken to Jerome and Clarkdale, where as the guests of the United Verde Extension Mining Company and the United Verde Copper Company, two of the largest copper producers in the country, they were taken on an inspection tour of the mines, the steam shovel works and the smelters. The return trip to Prescott, over the scenic Jerome highway, was made this afternoon, following which a meeting was arranged between local merchants and the visitors, and a program and dance in honor of the Californians given by the Yavapai County Chamber of Commerce.

"Arizona has much which is essential to the growth of California and is growing in importance rapidly," President McGarry of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce said. "Our last trade tour through the State netted us more than $6,000,000 in new business and the tour we expect to be as profitable. On the other hand, it is of equal value to Arizona, which is a growing source of supply to our constantly increasing demand. Arizona is the back country, which is necessary to us, and I am sure our association will be to foster friendship and trade between the two States."

"It is yours," he said, "to command and will be ours to respond."

The visitors left tonight for Phoenix, where they will spend a day before continuing their trip through the southern part of the State.

WIFE JUST AVERAGE' TO CHICAGOAN

But Blind Man Combats
Divorce Action of Spouse,
Now Pasadena Resident

CHICAGO, March 28. (Exclusive)—John H. Andrews, 63 years of age and totally blind, struck his long white beard on the witness stand today and said he believed Phoebe Andrews, to whom he was married in 1885, was "as good a wife as the average" and that he didn't want her to get the divorce she is asking.

"You think the average is pretty good, don't you?" the judge asked.

"Pretty good," the old man, a retired railroad reporter, said.

Miss Andrews, now a Pasadena but formerly of 882 Wellington avenue, testified she left her husband last January 1 because he had treated her cruelly. The blind husband swore he was influenced to leave him by Wesley Bedford, a roomer at their apartment.

Three children of the estranged couple, all grown up and married, testified against their mother in behalf of their father.

Mr. Andrews, in contending his wife is not entitled to a decree, denied charges of cruelty.

The trial was continued until tomorrow, when Mrs. Andrews is expected to take the stand.

Johnson States His Presidential Hopes Have Died

WASHINGTON, March 28. (Exclusive)—The Presidential germ in Senator Johnson, Republican, California, has run its course, he says. He told of his condition after calling on President Coolidge today.

In response to a question as to whether he had any aspirations in 1928 he said:

"I am the only member of the United States Senate who has had the Presidential germ from whom it has been thoroughly eradicated."

NEW RULING MADE ON VETERANS' EXEMPTION

SACRAMENTO, March 28. (P)—The present act which grants war veterans exemption from taxation on property valued at less than $5000 does not exclude a former soldier and his wife from making such claim of exemption, whether either owns property individually, up to the exemption limit, even though both together do own in excess of that amount. This opinion was given yesterday by Atty. Gen. Webb, Carl Barnard, District Attorney of Sonoma county, to clear up a puzzling case in which a veteran and his wife both had separate property of $3000.

BRANCH HIGH SCHOOL RULING GIVEN BY WEBB

SACRAMENTO, March 28. (P)—Branch high schools may be established by an existing high school district, but these schools will be a component part of the original district and the entire entity to be ruled Atty. Gen. Webb told in an opinion given to William John Cooper, State superintendent of public instruction. Apportionment of State funds on the basis of average daily attendance at these branch schools must continue to be made to the main district, and not separately to the branch, the attorney-general said.

CORNSTALKS TO YIELD SILK

Company Formed to Exploit Hungarian's Process;
Fabric One of Many Dissimilar Products

NEW YORK, March 28. (P)—Artificial silk and other synthetic products may be made from cornstalk pulp, says a report prepared in connection with proposed construction of mills in the Middle West corn belt for reclamation of waste cornstalks.

C. E. Roberts Engineering Company, specialists in commercial development of industrial processes, announced today that tests show the process discovered by Dr. Bela Dornay, Hungarian chemist, for manufacture of artificial silk and other articles from cornstalk pulp to be commercially and economically promising.

The report was prepared for a group of capitalists reported to be planning the erection of mills to convert the waste cornstalks into pulp.

Construction of a cornstalk mill, to abundant supplies of pulp for making paper, rayon, motion-picture film, explosives, lacquers, artificial leather and other products will be made possible by the discovery, according to Roberts.

The company which has acquired the American rights to the process includes Louis E. Clarke, chairman of the executive committee of the American Exchange-Irving Trust Company; Victor Berman, president of Onyx Oil and Chemical Company, Jersey City; Carl B. Ely, president of the Tannin Corporation, and J. C. Van Zee, president of Shell-Union Oil Corporation.

DON'T LOWER FRUIT RATE, HE DEMANDS

Visalia Grower Holds That Lesser Tariff Will Lead to Huge Overproduction

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28. (P)—Philip M. Baier, Visalia vineyardist, testified before Examiner Elmer L. Beach of the Interstate Commerce Commission here today that reduced deciduous fruit freight rates would be disastrous to the industry rather than poor markets have done.

"More deciduous fruit is produced than eastern markets can consume," Baier said, "and maintenance of the present rate would tend to stimulate overproduction and stabilize crops."

His statement formed part of the testimony introduced by railroads in defense of the suit brought by the California Growers Protective League for reduction of transcontinental rates from $1.73 to $1.44 per 100 pounds.

Technical testimony covering cost of handling fruit shipments from Chicago to New York was offered by T. P. Ward, accountant for the Erie Railroad.

Children to Get Large Estate of Pasadenaan

ST. LOUIS, March 28. (P)—The children of E. D. Franz, St. Louis grocer, who died in 1889, leaving a $600,000 estate, which since has grown to approximately $5,000,000, retain their potential interest in the estate. Federal Judge Paris decided today that the decision been otherwise, the two children would have been obliged outright to the widow, Mrs. Sophie Franz, 86 years of age, of Pasadena, Cal., to dispose of as she saw fit.

The eight children under the same will were to inherit the estate upon the death of their mother. Erhardt W. Franz of Baxter Springs, Kan., one of the six children still living, brought suit in 1924 to have himself and his brothers and sisters named as heirs to the estate. He stated the trustees, in distributing the children had waived their claim to the estate, accepting cash settlements instead. He testified such money was gifts only.

The net individual value of the estate was due largely to numerous cash and stock dividends of Burroughs Adding Machine Company, in which the elder Franz invested $31,000.

Sight Believed Saved for Boy Torn by Bear

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28. (P)—Skilled surgery is believed to have saved the sight of Paul Hayes, 17 years of age, of Stockton, whose features were torn almost beyond recognition by a cinnamon bear at Golden Gate Park yesterday.

One of the young eyes was torn from its socket and for a time physicians feared they would not be able to save sight in the other.

Hayes was seized by the bear when he approached too near to the park fence. One of the bear's claws passed through the bars, held him with one forepaw and clawed and bit him severely in the face, shoulders and arms. The boy's companions saved him by frightening the bear with rocks and sticks.

Ex-Policeman Seized in Child Kidnapping Plot

CHATTANOOGA (Tenn.) March 28. (P)—Frank Basket, 45 years of age, an ex-policeman, was arrested late today and charged with kidnapping and demanding a ransom in connection with the abduction last Wednesday of Virginia Jo, 2-year-old daughter of City Commissioner and Mrs. Fred B. Frazier.

The child was released last night after her parents had paid a ransom of $1000 to the kidnappers.

Other arrests were expected to follow immediately.

UNITED STATES ARMY BREEDS MANY HORSES

YOSEMITE, March 28. (P)—With recent purchases bringing its number of stallions up to 510, the United States Army now asserts it is the greatest horse breeder in the world. Gen. Charles H. Clegg, chief master-gunner and the stallions have produced 25,000 colts. The total value of the colts has been placed at $3,744,000.

LOST on DRESS PARADE By O. HENRY

When the two were established at a well-appointed table, with a promising waiter hovering in attendance, Chandler began to experience the real joy that his regular outing always brought to him.

Mr. Chandler. You may call said frankly. "I must run home now. I liked the dinner very much. Mr. Chandler.

"Come, then. Miss Marian," said the young architect, gaily, but with perfect courtesy: "you will not have far to walk. There is a very respectable and good restaurant in the same block. You will be able to find it on my arm—so—walk slowly. It is lonely dining all by one's self. I'm just a little bit glad that you slipped on the ice."

When the two were established at a well-appointed table, with a promising waiter hovering in attendance, Chandler began to experience the real joy that his regular outing always brought to him.

He shook hands with her, smiling cordially, and said something about a game of bridge at his club. He watched her for a moment, walking rather rapidly eastward, and then he found a cab to drive him slowly homeward.

In his chilly bedroom Chandler laid away his evening clothes for a six-nine days' rest. He went about it thoughtfully.

"That was a stunning girl," he said to himself. "She's all right, too. I'd be a swain if she were not to work. Perhaps if I'd told her the truth instead of all that ramble-dangle we might—but, confound 't! I had to play up to my clothes."

Thus spoke the brave who was born and brought up a swain of the tribe of the Manhattan.

The girl, after leaving her entertainer, sped swiftly cross-town until she arrived at a handsome and sedate mansion two stories to the roof. The name of this avenue which is the way of Macmillan and the auxiliary gods. Here she entered hurriedly and ascended to a room where a handsome young lady in an elaborate house dress was looking anxiously out the window.

"Oh, you madcap!" exclaimed the elder girl, when the other entered.

"When will you quit frightening us this way? It is two hours since you left. The two hours since you left. Mama has been so alarmed. She sent Louis in the auto to try to find you. You are a bad, thoughtless girl."

"Marie, tell mama that Miss Marian has returned."

"Don't scold, sister. I only ran down Main Street. The auto had to make another insertion instead of pine. My costume and Marie's hat were just what I needed. Every one thought I was a shop girl, I am sure."

"Dinner is over dear; you stayed so long."

"I know. I slipped on the sidewalk and turned my ankle. I could not walk, so I hobbled into a restaurant and sat there until I was better. That is why we were late."

The two girls sat in the window seat, looking out at the lights and the stream of hurrying vehicles in the avenue. The younger one cuddled down with her head in her sister's lap.

"We will have to marry some day," she said dreamily—"both of us. We have so much money that we will not be allowed to disappoint the public. Do you want me to call in the kind of man I could love?"

"Go on, you scatterbrained other."

"I could love a man with dark and kind blue eyes, who is gentle and considerate. He is kind and good, and does not try to flirt. But I could love him only if he had an ambition, an object, some work to do in the world. I would not let him go if he was a failure. I would help him build his way up. But, sister dear, the kind of a man we always meet—the man who lives an idle life between society and his clubs—I could not love a man like that, even though he had a blue heart. He is not so kind to poor girls whom he met in the street."

"This way of living that you speak of," she said, "sounds so futile and purposeless. Haven't you any work to do in the world that might interest you more?"

"There is nothing wrong about it," said the young man, candidly. "I'll introduce myself—permit me—Mr. Towers Chandler. After our dinner, when I will try to make a pleasant, genial, and witty visit to you, I will be sure to bring you home very nicely, I am sure."

The girl looked quickly up into Chandler's eyes, pleasant, sound, honest. Her eyes twinkled once very brightly, and then smiled ingeniously.

"But we don't know each other—it would not be right, would it?" she said doubtfully.

"There is nothing wrong about it," said the young man, candidly. "I'll introduce myself—permit me—Mr. Towers Chandler. After our dinner, when I will try to make a pleasant, genial, and witty visit to you, I will be sure to bring you home very nicely, I am sure."

TRIO SENTENCED IN PLAY MOP-UP

Author and Producers of "Virgin Man" Guilty

Given Ten Days for Violating Public Decency

"Captive" Case Dropped and "Sex" Trial Opens Today

NEW YORK, March 28. (Exclusive) Sentences of ten days each in the workhouse were imposed today upon William Francis Dugan, author, and Mac Cohan and Jacob Kromberg, producers of "The Virgin Man." The play is one of the most popular radio serials, and after the sudden decision of the District Attorney and the police to clean up Broadway.

The three, with the members of the cast, with the production were pronounced guilty of maintaining a nuisance and violating public decency by the justices in Special Sessions.

They were tried a week ago but the case was adjourned for a month. They were fined also $250 each, with the alternative of additional workhouse sentences of thirty days. Their attorney served notice on an appeal to the Supreme Court at once to obtain from a Supreme Court Justice a certificate of reasonable doubt which, if got in time, would make them subject to release on bail before starting the jail sentence.

The sentences of all members of the cast were suspended.

The jail sentences are the first imposed on a group of radio "Captives" subjected to police supervision at the same time as the "Virgin Man" was withdrawn by its producers and the charges against those involved in its production dismissed.

Trial of the cast and producers of "Sex" the third play raised, begins tomorrow before Judge Dennerlin in General Sessions.

Judge Dennerlin's verdict was announced today counsel for those involved in "The Virgin Man" made motions for dismissal of the charges and the motions were denied.

RICH INDIAN GIRL VANISHES

Abduction Hinted in $400,000 Estate Battle After She Goes in Car With Stranger

MUSKOGEE (Okla.) March 28. (P)—Mills Nafarkey, known as the "poor little rich Indian girl," who has an estate valued at $400,000 tied up in litigation, but who has been virtually an object of charity for nearly four years, is missing from her home here. A Kansas automobile, a gib-tongued stranger, sleek of hair and handsome of feature, figure in the disappearance of the girl. Friends fear she has been kidnapped.

Government agents searching for the girl, who disappeared Saturday from the home of the T. N. Roach, employee of the Five Civilized Tribes automobile, who had been staying at the home after the sudden decision of the District Attorney and the police to clean up Broadway.

The three, with the members of the cast, with the production were pronounced guilty of maintaining a nuisance and violating public decency by the justices in Special Sessions.

The sentences of all members of the cast were suspended.

The jail sentences are the first imposed on a group of radio "Captives" subjected to police supervision at the same time as the "Virgin Man" was withdrawn by its producers and the charges against those involved in its production dismissed.

Trial of the cast and producers of "Sex" the third play raised, begins tomorrow before Judge Dennerlin in General Sessions.

Judge Dennerlin's verdict was announced today counsel for those involved in "The Virgin Man" made motions for dismissal of the charges and the motions were denied.

The theory that the strange young man had something to do with the mystery was refuted when French, who does receive a telephone call from a farmhouse south of Tulsa, the girl, appeared at the ranch home and asked to see the girl, it was said.

Ambassador Claude in Presenting Credentials Hopes for Full Accord

WASHINGTON, March 28. (P)—Optimistic references to France's war debt to the United States were exchanged today between President Coolidge and Paul Claudel, when the new French Ambassador presented his credentials to the president at the temporary White House.

Ambassador Claudel expressed his pleasure at entering upon his duties as the moment when France has given fresh evidence of her armament to disprove her indecisiveness and meet her just obligations.

Replies. President Coolidge declared the sympathy and admiration this country has shown for France in her war, and the French have asked the questions arising from the aftermath of the war and the recent token of the determination of the French republic to continue in that course he has been received with a characteristic smile of his spirit.

Both the President and the Ambassador referred to American participation in the World War. Mr. Claudel declining France's "take pride in us" in which France has a history that does not extend over four generations her destinies are as one with those of the United States in a clear perception and brave defense of justice and right. She will be a good friend to us, he said.

Ambassador Claudel said he was generally shed.

When his regiment returned to the United States Wilson, still known as James Long, a careful guardian of the secret of his medical identity, contracted rheumatism and was sent to the soldiers' home at Dayton. Here he determined to spend the remainder of his life.

When he was mentioned to friends of the Wilson family that he had met an old soldier in the Dayton home named "James Long" and that this man had evinced an unusual interest in "Yorkville."

There had been much conjecture as to whether Mr. Dawes would appoint a successor to Senator Goff. Republicans said Senator Goff had intended the invitation was of a personal nature rather than political, and does not come from nor with the approval of organized Republicans.

There had been much conjecture as to whether Mr. Dawes would appoint a successor to Senator Goff. Mr. Goff, however, said the name of a man for which I am speaking," continued Mr. Divine, "do not believe that the Senator from Idaho is entitled to a public dinner in an attempt to get him to do so." The theory was that the Senator from Idaho is entitled to a public dinner in an attempt to get him to do so.

One of his greatest achievements as an attorney was clearing up difficulties encountered by irrigation districts in Yuba, Glenn and Colusa counties, which opened for settlement some 250,000 acres of land in the Sacramento Valley. The colonization project in this state developed when legal entanglements of the Brown Valley Irrigation Districts of Yuba county and the Central Irrigation District of Colusa and Glenn counties were cleared out chiefly through Chamberlain's efforts.

As a Republican leader, he organized and was first president of the Dirigo Club, which played a notable part in the campaign following James G. Blaine's nomination to Presidency. Chamberlain later organized the Union League Club, successor of the Dirigo. The Jonathan Club of Los Angeles was originally a local political organization, but later became a social club.

Chamberlain was born in Columbia, Tuolumne county, in 1855 and had been president of both the Stanford and Pacific parlors of the Native Sons of the Golden West, and also to the rank of colonel in the State's military. At one time he was traveling auditor for the Central Pacific Railroad and later national bank examiner for California, Utah, Nevada and Colorado.

Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow.

UNTANGLING ETHER JAM RADIO GOAL

Public Hearing to Begin Today in Hope of Finding General Broadcast Plan

WASHINGTON, March 28. (P)—A hearing room in the crowded ether channels without undue disturbance to the 733 broadcasting stations now in operation in the United States, is the goal of the Federal Radio Commission which will open public hearings tomorrow to a view to obtaining a starting point.

Testimony at the hearings, to be attended by representatives of the National Association of Broadcasters, the Radio Manufacturers Association, the Radio Broadcasters and others, will be considered by the commission in formulating its general policy. No specific complaints will be heard, the intention being to discuss, first, all general problems of the admittedly existing problem.

The first angle to be taken up will be proposals for widening existing channels now used between 500 and 500 meters, by permitting the use of bands between 150 and 200 meters, the field now used by approximately 18,000 amateur broadcasters. Whatever the ultimate understanding will be directed toward the lower bands, since the higher bands are used by ships for SOS signals and other purposes.

Other principals on which testimony will be heard will have to do with limitation of power for broadcasting purposes.

CHUCKLES from LIFE

The efficiency expert who has trained the office force never to waste anything gets a wind-up.

Reversal

SHE was just a poor little girl from the city, cast by the bewildering currents of life into the maelstrom of Grubb's Corners. A short year back she had been gay and blithesome—a rare flower in the perfect setting of Broadway's glittering supper clubs.

A short year back she had not known the insidious influence of Grubb's Corners; a short year back she had not known.

Where were those lovely rose leaves that used to blossom on her cheeks? Wilted, alas. Where the deep carmine that curved with her cherry-ripe lips? Faded, forever faded. Where the artistic shadows beneath her eyes; the heavy mascara that beaded her lashes; the Ritz clip that adorned her graceful neck? Gone, all gone, the old, familiar graces.

She walked slowly, as one in sorrow; and her glance strayed

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY—676

With the dawning of the third day of the struggle at Gettysburg, Gen. Lee, desperate in his demand for victory, resolved to make a bold assault upon Cemetery Ridge, the strongly fortified center of Meade's line. Gen. Longstreet, who favored making a flank movement around the Union left, protested against this plan of action, but Lee was hopeful of success, and ordered the attack to proceed.

In preparation for the great charge, 150 Confederate field-pieces were brought to bear upon Cemetery Ridge. At one p. m. two guns were fired in quick succession as a signal, and immediately the batteries all along the line began blazing away at the Federal position.

The Union batteries replied, and for nearly two hours the heavens reverberated with the thunder of the terrific cannonade. Gen. Longstreet said, "The armies seemed like mighty wild beasts growling at each other and preparing for a death struggle."

BANK DEPOSITS CONTINUE CLIMB

Aggregate of Los Angeles Sets New Record

Most State Institutions Report Increases

Bank of Italy Now Among National Group

Reflecting again the continued growth in wealth of Los Angeles, deposits on the 23rd inst. of the thirty-two State and national banks with head offices within the city limits, as reported yesterday in response to the calls from the Comptroller of Currency and State Superintendent of Banks, broke all records in the history of the city.

Aggregate deposits of the nineteen State banks of the of the current call were $622,009,760.70, as compared with $610,751,265.57 for the same date at the close of 1926, and $583,656,039.78 for the same date of 1925. The increase is of $12,028,491.12, or 2 per cent, and $39,171,124.92, or 6 per cent, respectively.

The Bank of Italy is reporting for the first time to the Comptroller of the Currency instead of the State Superintendent of Banks, and for this reason the deposits of the bank, to date, have not been included in the America, which were absorbed by it, are shifted to the national bank list, increasing the total of the national banks substantially and decreasing the deposits in the State banks correspondingly.

SEEZABLE INCREASE

Deposits of all the national banks with the exception of the Bank of Italy, which has not yet reported, totalled $645,517,587.32 as of the 23rd inst. With the Bank of Italy showing deposits only equal to those at the close of 1926, the aggregate for all of the thirty-two banks in the city would be approximately $44,000,000 greater than at the close of last year. The Bank of Italy, however, has increased its deposits in all banks in its Los Angeles division, which includes a much wider territory than heretofore, and consequently its total deposits will greatly exceed those of last year.

Since the last report the Commercial National Trust and Savings Bank, the Bank of America and the Seaboard Commercial and Savings Bank, which were absorbed by the Bank of Italy, the two former by the Bank of Italy and the latter by the California Bank. On the other hand, the German-American Savings Bank, recently formed, is added to the list, ranking tenth among the nineteen State banks with deposits of $988,514.85.

TRACTOR ACTION AWAITED

Caterpillar Expected to Boost Quarterly Rate at Next Meeting; Buyers After Properties

BY EARL E. CROWE

Only routine business is on the program for the annual meeting today of the Caterpillar Tractor Company in San Leandro. The real business, if the stock market conjectures are right, will come at the next dividend meeting around the first of May when the directors are supposed to take another step in raising the annual rate closer to a 62 basis.

The gap between $1.20 and $1.22 will not be bridged at this meeting, it is understood, but it is considered likely that the quarterly rate will be increased from 30 cents to 40 cents.

This will place Caterpillar on an annual basis of $1.60 and leave a final 10-cent increase for a meeting later in the year.

ABILITY TO PAY

Regarding the ability of Caterpillar to pay $2.50 the market does not entertain any doubt. The financial consolidation have been all fully recognized in stock market prices. Last year not applicable to the company's $3.50 per share in 1926, with the equivalent of $627 in the previous year. Reductions in selling prices and unusually heavy rains in the summer and fall throughout the Midwest accounted chiefly for the slight decrease.

The Caterpillar management, however, has not been particularly concerned with successive new records in the capital structure of the company, principal of which is the retirement of $5,423,000 first mortgage funding sink fund 5 per cent bonds due May 1, 1949, and $305,000 Spring River Power Company first mortgage 5 per cent bonds due 1930, on May 1, will be effected with a part of the proceeds of an issue of $9,400,000 first mortgage and refunding bonds, 5 per cent series, due March 1, 1932, which the company has sold to a banking group headed by Halsey, Stuart & Co. In this connection, it is reported that the $1.60 dividend will be called at 105 and interest at 105 and interest.

The proceeds of the new issue remaining will reimburse the company for prior liens previously paid and not required for capital expenditures which will be called at 105 and interest.

The proceeds of the new issue remaining will reimburse the company for prior liens previously paid and not required for capital expenditures which will be called at 105 and interest.

The company supplies electric light and power, directly or indirectly, to nearly cities and communities in Southwestern Missouri, Southeastern Kansas, and Northern Oklahoma.

All of its common stock is owned by the Cities Service Power and Light Company.

The Royal Securities Company will also offer today bonds for street improvements on a basis to net the investor more than 8½ per cent.

The Royal Securities Company will also offer today bonds for street improvements on a basis to net the investor more than 8½ per cent.

FINANCES EXCELLENT

The financial position of the company as shown by the 1926 annual statement is excellent. In no way does it appear that the company is in financial difficulty.

There is no funded debt expansion having been handled through earnings. Current assets at the end of the year were 60 per cent of total assets, including eight current liabilities. Inventories have been held in check, even though unit sales have increased. Inventories in 1926 were 38 per cent of total assets, compared with 54 per cent in 1925.

Behind the expansion of plants and equipment is an ample cushion of depreciation reserves. The percentage of depreciation reserves to total assets, plant and equipment was 26 per cent at the end of 1926. The surplus is the equivalent to 67 a share on the outstanding capital stock.

Speculatively, the foundation for and the likelihood of progressive dividend increases are important market-wise, but there is another significant influence. The success of the tractor and harvester enterprise has attracted nation-wide attention.

International Harvester, it is reported, has indicated a desire to possess Western Harvester, Caterpillar's domestic dealer organization.

International Harvester is reported to have manifested similar designs on the parent company.

General Motors, it will be remembered, once went into the tractor business and dropped out when it was not successful.

This experiment was conducted in California under the W. C. Durant regime, and probably left the motor company with the conclusion that the plowing should be done by somebody else.

Each year the company market, per cent, head of sheep and 700,000 pounds of wool, doing a gross business of about $1,000,000 annually.

From an invested capital of $30,000 in 1897, the business has increased through reinvested earnings, to a present net worth of $5,723,396. Operating income for the last four fiscal years averaged $940,553 annually.

Surplus earnings of the Central and Southwest Utilities Company for the fiscal period, comprising the seventeen months ended December 31, last, after payment of preferred and prior-lien dividends, interest and administrative expenses, amounted to $3,085,000, equivalent to $60 a share on the 160,000 shares of common stock issued and outstanding at the close of the year.

Total income of the company was $6,056,760 and total expenses amounted to $3,974,757. Other income for the period amounted to $611,753 was received from interest on bank balances, profits from sale of securities and property and fees for engineering and other services.

FOUR UTILITIES LEAD

National Public Service Group Earns $1,123,607 in Year

Supplementing the recent publication of the 1926 earnings of the National Public Service Corporation, statements of the company's four most important subsidiaries for 1926 have been received.

Net earnings of the Municipal Service Company are reported at $1,681,016, or more than 5.40 times annual interest charges on a $30,000,000 trust fund, due 1956. The Jersey Central Power and Light Company reports net earnings of $2,601,016, the Virginia Public Service shows a net earnings of $2,086,000, and the Tide Water Power Company $2,024,537.

HOSIERY AND SILEK MILL DEAL PENDING

CORPORATION BEING FORMED TO TAKE OVER COMPANY IN TENNESSEE

Davenport Hosiery Mill and the Davenport Silk Mills of Chattanooga, Tenn., are being acquired by a corporation to be incorporated in Delaware, under the name of Davenport Hosiery & Co. and a separate head office at Merritt, Lynch & Co. and Halligan & Co. of New York, will offer shortly to the public $1,000,000 convertible 7 per cent cumulative preferred stock and 15,000 shares of common stock at par value.

The company manufactures "Hunting Bird" and "Blue Crane" silk hosiery for women, which is distributed through 5000 active accounts representing retail dealers all over the United States. The business was started in 1920 with a capital of about $60,000, and its growth to its present position has been due entirely to accumulation of profits.

It is the opinion of the management that the business will remain in the hands of experienced and capable men who founded the business and developed it to its present size. T. Walter Fred, president of J. H. Davenport, secretary and treasurer, are the largest individual stockholders.

Seaboard Bank Starts Realty Loan Adjunct

Active business of the department was immediately started yesterday following the formal opening of the new real-estate loan division of the Seaboard Bank, Inc., a separate head office at Howell B. Kirkpatrick, founder and director of the institution. The department will be managed by A. H. Blackmore, a vice-president of the bank.

T. C. Scroggs, cashier of the Seaboard Bank, announced yesterday that the head office of the institution, has been made assistant manager of the bank. Mr. Kirkpatrick, formerly a member of the board of directors of the bank, has been with the Seaboard bank since its opening.

Really, most of us get things without half-trrying. We lack the small boy's optimism. We talk patronizingly of the happy, care-free days of childhood, but the fact is that for most youngsters childhood is a hard school. The wants are many, and few of them are satisfied, except by persistent entrepreneurship.

We recommend the purchase of Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Common Stock.

It is the opinion of the management that the business will remain in the hands of experienced and capable men who founded the business and developed it to its present size. T. Walter Fred, president of J. H. Davenport, secretary and treasurer, are the largest individual stockholders.

COTTON BELT SEASON LATE

Large Area in Central Part Flooded and Indications Point to Cut of Acreage Elsewhere

MEMPHIS (Tenn.) March 28. (Exclusive)—Weather conditions over the central cotton belt in the Mississippi River Valley have improved considerably the last of the week and on highest ground some plowing is being started for the first time for the new crop, with prospects of 5 to 10 per cent decrease in acreage generally at this time.

However, upward of 800,000 acres of cotton land are under water in Southeast Missouri, Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas, Mississippi and Louisiana from the flooded Mississippi and many tributaries. Arkansas delta having the hardest fight against the flood, and in many sections the water will not recede for sixty days, indicating that acreage reduction in this area might be as high as 20 or 25 per cent actually.

At worst, considerably more acreage in Arkansas will go into foodstuffs than last season, and reports from Oklahoma indicated much more cereal acreage is being planted.

REDUCTIONS LATER

Scattered and unofficial reports from various sections of the belt indicate some reduction will be made but not until June or July can the extent be determined.

In Texas and Oklahoma and in the central and southern states conditions are much better and considerable plowing is under way, reports state. Plowing everywhere, however, is thirty days later on the average than last year, and some two or three weeks earlier than ordinary in the central region, where in a number of spots where the flooded area the incessant rainfall will not dry sufficiently to allow plowing.

Bancalini closed 1-4 higher at 110-1-4, but Italy was off 11-1-2 points to 6801. Bancalini rights were quoted 3 cents off at 802. Southern California Edison strength was off 1-1-2, but fell off to a firm close at 33. Los Angeles Investment held at 2.83.

Black Range sold all day at 4 cents lower than on Saturday, but a week earlier had been 10 cents higher.

A ample time remains, however, for putting a good crop in the ground, except for the fact that land will be scarce and the farmer will have to depend more on his own efforts in getting a start as early as possible.

The high water has practically killed all receipts from the areas, so the few that have been in for mill inquiry for spot cotton is a bit improved. For a week prior it had been dull, but offerings were very poor and buyers held up firmly. Buyers are a little inclined now to meet holders' prices than a week ago, but generally demand is only fair for special types that are very strong.

The unsold stock in the hands of factors has been down to 70,000 bales out of a stock of 200,000 as compared with 123,000 unsold out at a total stock of 287,000 bales at this time last year. Total stocks of cotton in the U. S. Arkansas company towns are 200,000 bales less than at this time last year.

SEASONAL DECLINES

Receipts at Memphis the past week were 48,451 total, including 11,000 bales of strictly local cotton, against 50,700, including 11,800 local last week, and 17,900, including 5,600 local last year. The market is very wary for the season, dropping off 9,000 bales to 58,100 bales against 20,600 last year. Total stocks here declined 10,000 bales for the week.

Under present conditions the Memphis stock promises to be much smaller at the end of the season than last year. Bullish ginning reports this week, aided by floods and scarcity of unmarketable cotton, are not persuading owners of cotton to hold on for dear life. With March covering out the way, the spot market may simmer all here for two or three weeks until time comes to make commitments, and if the shorts did not get their during the feverish buying recently much more activity with advanced prices impends.

RISE OF MONTANA POWER EXPLAINED

NEW YORK. March 28. (Exclusive)—Explanation of remaining power and expectation that the annual dividend on the stock of the Montana Power Company will be increased from 85 to 95 a share are said to be factors in the recent advance in the shares of Montana Power. In the last year the company has paid a dividend of 85 cents a share, and the stock is outstanding 496,333 shares which it has sold to employees and customers. A large investment house is understood to have bought 80,000 shares of the floating supply and placed them abroad.

NEW HIGHS SET ON STOCK MART

of brokers' loans, issued after the close of the market, showed a drop of $38,882,000 in the week ended last Wednesday.

STEEL SOARS
United States Steel common touched 163 7-8, the highest price ever recorded. Strength of the steel shares was based on reports of further expansion in mill operations by independents, plants of the Steel Corporation already being around 100 percent of capacity, and a revival of rumors that dividends on Bethlehem Steel common will be resumed before the end of the year. General Motors moved up over 3 points to 183 3-8, a new peak for the investment stock, in further reflection of Vice-President Raskin's recent prediction that first-quarter earnings and possibly those for the first half of 1927, would set a new high record. D. Pont, which has large General Motors holdings, jumped over 7 points to a new top at 216 7-8.

SOLVENTS UP

Expectations of a stock split-up were behind the further accumulation of Commercial Solvents, which soon nearly 10 points to a new maximum of 186 1/2. National Biscuit moved up 2 1/4 points to 113, to a record, on rumors of an increase in dividends. Reports of the company's plan to absorb Fleischmann Company closed 53 to a new high, were denied.

Weakness again developed in American Brown Boveri, Electric Refrigeration, Bissell Brothers "A," Savory Arms and Pan-American "Western," all of which sold at or near their low prices of the year.

Steady accumulation of Delaware and Hudson, which jumped 10 points to 195 1-2, the highest figure reached since 1908, was based on the fact that the road would follow the actions of Lackawanna in segregating its treasury assets. A strong demand also developed for Atkinson, Chesapeake and Ohio, Texas and Pacific, Union Pacific and Norfolk and Western, all of which closed 2 to nearly 6 points higher on the day.

Marking up of the call-money rate followed the withdrawal of above $25,000,000 by out-of-town banks, presumably in anticipation of month-end dividends. Time money and commercial rates were unchanged.

Commodity prices were mixed with a decline of about 10 points in a bushel of active wheat futures, based on relatively small grain exports as chief feature. Cotton and sugar futures showed little change and coffee prices were marked up 8 to 15 points.

Foreign exchanges held relatively steady, demand sterling quoted around $4.80, 5-16, and French francs above 3.91 cents.

BANK DEPOSITS CONTINUE GAIN

$100,000 over the last call. The California Bank added nearly $2,000,000 and continues in third place.

STANDARD CHANGE
The Federal Trust and Savings Bank of Hollywood moved up with a sharp increase in deposits, and the Arroyo Seco State Bank moved ahead of the York Boulevard State, Bank of America and Hollywood State Banks.

The First American Bank held its relative position, moving more than $1,200,000 to $4,163,981.

The following table shows deposits of the nineteen State banks as of the 23rd instant, with comparisons, tabulated with the national banks being withheld until the Bank of Italy report is available:

JURORS DISAGREE

STONEMBLE (Ariz.) March 28. (Exclusive)—After a deadlock of several days with the jurors refusing to have stood steadily at ten for acquittal and two for conviction, the jury in the case of A. A. Sperry, a former employee of the Commerce Realty and Trust Company of Douglas, charged with embezzlement of $4,000 from that institution, was dismissed. The trial had consumed two weeks.

KISS TERMED ASSAULT

PHOENIX, March 28. (Exclusive)—A charge of simple assault against a Phoenix police officer, based upon an accusation of a stolen kiss, has been dismissed, the complainant stating to the court that she did not care to go further with the prosecution. The complainant had distinction as the only one of the sort ever filed in Arizona.

Verdict of Murder Returned by Coroner's Jury in Diggins Death

ALL WITNESSES VAGUE ON FIGHT

One Juryman Convinced by Accident Theory

Glass Plays Large Part in Inquest Testimony

Mrs. Meehan Denies Being Cause of Brawl.

After listening to the details of what was perhaps one of Hollywood's peppiest parties, seven members of a Coroner's Jury yesterday reached a decision that Eddie Diggins, pugilist and actor, met his death in the Crescent Club Cafe last Saturday morning from a sharp instrument in the hand of a person or persons unknown, with a homicidal intent.

An eighth member of the same jury handed Coroner Nance a separate decision, which contained the juror's opinion that the deceased had died from a "sharp round" of the throat, and that he believes the wound was caused by a piece of glass, accidental.

Bar glass, chandelier glass, bottle glass and just common window glass played a rather prominent part throughout the testimony at the inquest.

DOZEN WITNESSES

The events that led up to the free-for-all fight were told from various angles by a dozen witnesses. In brief, they all agreed that a fight took place, that chairs were swung and table legs broken, that glasses and glasses flew, but all of them were unanimous in not knowing who inflicted the fatal wound on Diggins, or why.

Perhaps the most loquacious witness was John F. Sinclair, actor. In a motion picture stunt man, he, Diggins and John F. Sinclair, actor, arrived at the cafe together.

John's memory was none too good. He admitted under questioning by Dep. Dist. Atty. that he did not make any distinct impressions. He recalled the crowded cafe, considerable drinks over the old-fashioned bar and much loud conversation.

"It was sort of a nightmare-story," he testified. "Everybody was pretty wacky. Everybody seemed willing to fight. I heard somebody yelling 'lego, lego,' and after that all I remember was a lot of feet."

He testified that he remembered being knocked down, but had no distinct recollection of getting up again.

After Jones, Sinclair took the stand.

His account was more detailed, which he attributed to the assertion that he only had "a couple of beers."

MEEHAN BANDAGED

"If you check up on the parties I've been on you'll find that I generally act as 'bystander' for the rest," he asserted.

Stimson recited how he saw Char- lie Meehan, also a participant in the brawl, fall on his face in one of the cafe rooms, while Diggins squared off for battle with half a dozen other trouble-seekers. Meehan, a former actress, Mrs. Irene Dalton Meehan, former actress and wife of Charlie, left the cafe with him until the fight was over.

Another interesting witness was Walter Erickson, who gave his account as a bystander, but who refused to answer whether he passed liquor to the men involved in the fight.

He said he had just dropped in for a moment's visit.

According to Attorney Huntington, George Haines, 30 years of age, arrested on the 20th inst., will remain in jail in the 1105 South Catalina street, has confessed to perpetrating twenty-five burglaries in Wilshire division and vicinity, according to reports of the arresting officers, Detective Lieutenants Roberts and Thompson.

Legal Firm of City Announces Its Dissolution

The promised airing of the affairs of the Twelfth Ward Republican Club was postponed yesterday until next Monday at 9 a.m. at which time Municipal Judge Frederick will hear arguments on a demurrer entered by certain of the club officers.

Defendants are charged with acts calculated to disturb the public peace. The charges were filed following a raid on the club offices in the Crescent Club, which issued speed tags issued to traffic violators were found. The defendants include Robert H. Hickey, president; Sam Y. Edwards, A. J. Donlin, Daniel Rissman and J. M. Rissman.

Dep. Dist. Atty. Thomas continued his examination of evidence purporting to show that the club was being "unjust" traffic tags and as means of endorsing political candidates in exchange for money. If the evidence warrants the matter will be laid before the county grand jury for final disposition.

Joseph Santillo, cafe cook, also observed nothing that might lead to the identity of Diggins' assassin.

Detective Lieutenant Charlie Hoy told the inquest that Mrs. Meehan, after the fight, but declared that the actor was apparently still under the influence of liquor.

The last witness was Autoper. Surgeon, who testified that Diggins' wound could have been caused by broken glass. This testimony brought considerable questioning from the jury.

HAMILTON CALLED

Lloyd Hamilton, film comedian, was subpoenaed to appear at the inquest but was not called upon to testify.

It was stated that the police had taken a written statement from him before the inquest and were satisfied that he could add nothing to the testimony of the other witnesses.

Others subpoenaed but who did not testify included Roche and Josie St. George, checkroom girls; Tim Toolin and Colleen Kelly, waiters; and Joe Teraguchi, Japanese dishwasher.

Men's Identity Traced by Cigarette Wrapper

Fail to Connect Pair in Jail With Killing

Auto Still Presents Mystery

A man's cigarette paper rolled in a cigarette and caught in the lining of a man's coat pocket yesterday and the identity of the man was not in death Sunday morning on the Home and Oregon streets. The man is George E. Parker, 28 years of age, an employee of the Los Angeles Trucking Company.

Lieutenant Jones of the department after the investigation had been completed turned over nothing to his investigation, giving no key to his identity. The paper contained the name of the man, Parker, Call 21.

The investigation led Jordan to the Heights jail, where he found Parker in cell on charges of robbery.

Parker admitted writing his name and number on the cigarette and giving it to a friend.

An inquest into the death of Parker will be held at 2:30 p.m. today.

PRESIDENT SPEAKS

In an address at the banquet in the music room of the Biltmore in Los Angeles, President Chamberlain outlined the corporation's aims and its prospects for advancement in its chosen field. The outlined scope of the company, which is the writing of fire, marine, earthquake and kindred insurance, emphasized the investment outlet it provides in the loaning of premium money in Los Angeles and business firms were massed in the office during the day, which, though officially the starting point of the year's corporate activities, was the passing of the month that the offices have been established. The stock of the company has been sold, the certificate of an attorney general having been received from the California State Insurance Commissioner and application for admittance to the Board of Fire Underwriters has been granted.

INDUSTRIAL FAME OF SOUTHLAND SPREADS

EASTERNERS ATTRACTED HERE BY FACILITIES CONSIDER INVESTMENTS

The industrial fame of Los Angeles is spreading throughout the entire East, according to W. N. Thompson, former president of the Stutz Motor Company, who has been here since last November. He arrived in this city yesterday in search of new business opportunities.

In the balance of approximately $50,000 went to other States, where it was used to build up and enrich eastern communities. Our company, which today is doing a large business in Los Angeles, is not taking away any part of income of business already established, but on the contrary will serve residents in a two-fold manner.

Thompson and Rockstake are guests of W. O. Ferguson, general agent of the Pennsylvania Mutual Life Insurance Company, at the Alexandria.

Glendale Attorney Shot in Attempt to Prevent Hold-up

Royal J. Wilke, 35 years of age, Glendale attorney, was shot in the left arm yesterday afternoon when he offered resistance to the bandit who had robbed him of $400 in cash and who forced him to drive in his sedan.

Attorney Wilke was driving in the vicinity of Western avenue and Franklin street when the bandit car forced him into the curb. One bandit got out and Wilke's car forced him at the point of a gun to drive into Griffith Park.

PAINTING PROVES TREASURE

Supposed Flemish Work Discovered to be From Correggio's Brush and Valued at $1,000,000

ILLUSTRATION ON PICTURE PAGE

Suddenly to find himself the possessor of an art treasure has been the experience of Thomas A. Haselton, Los Angeles realty man of 885 South Highland avenue. A painting purchased two years ago and attributed to a Flemish painter, it was discovered as an original work of Correggio, celebrity of the Italian Renaissance, it was announced by Haselton yesterday.

Last November Haselton sent the picture to Prof. E. Faust Squadrilli, a restorer of paintings, of Hollywood, to have it refurbished and reframed.

In the course of his work Prof. Squadrilli found that the picture had been painted over four different times and as soon as he had uncovered most of the original picture he became convinced that it was the work of Correggio.

MYTHEROGIC SUBJECT

The picture shows Andromeda chained to a rock and it is Squadrilli's belief that this is a portion of a larger canvas of Perseus slaying the dragon and liberating Andromeda, done by Correggio in 1520.

He bases this theory on the fact that on one side of the canvas there is an end of a dragon's tail and a splotch of red which might be a portion of Perseus's cloak. Photographs of the restoration work as it was in process and of the picture when it was finished have been sent by Squadrilli to Corrado Ricci and Coverti, two of the experts in the field, and to Correggio, for final confirmation on the authenticity of the painting.

Haselton said that he acquired the picture from Charles O'Neil of this three factors, he said, are the expression of an individuality in man, the desire to connect to the masses, and the mass-thinking done by individuals and presented by others and the movies. The desire is making the modern worshiper of man as a deity, he declared. The desire to the average person that material things, which are of more value.—[Break]

The Modern Method Of Roasting Meat To Perfection

To the modern woman, there probably is no other food as useful in the kitchen as Mazola. Nearly every day she finds new uses for it in all cooking, frying, baking and for fine salad dressings.

This recipe from Ida, Bailey Allen's New Book (see coupon below) demonstrates a new use for Mazola that is being welcomed everywhere.

Once you try Mazola for cooking you will never go back to the old fashioned way of using animal fats.

To Roast Meat

Wipe the meat with a damp cloth, place in a dripping pan or double roaster, dust with salt, pepper and flour, allowing from one to two tablespoons of flour to sift on the bottom of the pan, and put in a hot oven, 375 to 400 degrees F. to brown. This takes from fifteen to twenty minutes. Pour a little hot water into the pan containing two or three tablespoons Mazola and one-half tablespoon of Karo, Blue Label. Baste the meat with this every fifteen minutes, until done. Make a gravy from the drippings in the pan, adding a cup of boiling water to each half cup of drippings. If necessary, thicken the gravy with a little Argo or Kingsford's Cornstarch blended with cold water.

Send Only 10c with this coupon and you will receive a copy of Ida Bailey Allen's wonderful new Cook Book, beautifully bound, 112 pages of unusual recipes. Write Johnson, Carrell & Murphy, 247 South Central Ave., Los Angeles, Calif.

C. H. Fields, 27 years of age, who says he is the daughter-in-law of a wealthy rancher of Central California, was lodged in the County Jail last night after her arrest by Investigator Darley of the District Attorney's staff at 1088 Carroll Drive. According to Dep. Dist. Atty. Thoma and Ham, she is suspected of embezzlement and larceny of $20,000 worth of diamonds from Feagans & Co.

The jewelry was obtained, according to the deputies, by telephone order. It was said the coterie up Harry M. Schroeder, manager of Feagans & Co., introduced herself as the wife of the rancher's son, and said the rancher had authorized her to open an endowment fund in his name. It was said, at various times on a previous occasion, that she had pawned about half of it. The remainder, according to the investigator, was found in her possession.

C. H. Fields, 27 years of age, who says he is the daughter-in-law of a wealthy rancher of Central California, was lodged in the County Jail last night after her arrest by Investigator Darley of the District Attorney's staff at 1088 Carroll Drive. According to Dep. Dist. Atty. Thoma and Ham, she is suspected of embezzlement and larceny of $20,000 worth of diamonds from Feagans & Co.

The jewelry was obtained, according to the deputies, by telephone order. It was said the coterie up Harry M. Schroeder, manager of Feagans & Co., introduced herself as the wife of the rancher's son, and said the rancher had authorized her to open an endowment fund in his name. It was said, at various times on a previous occasion, that she had pawned about half of it. The remainder, according to the investigator, was found in her possession.

PRACTICAL RECIPES

Elements for preparation and serving of foods will be answered in this column every Tuesday. Address to Mrs. L. Lankershim, Taylor's Famous Kitchen, 424 Arden Avenue, Glendale. Ed.

CHOCOLATE GINGERBREAD

W. F. L. Lankershim, Cal.—One-third of a cupful of shortening, one cupful of honey, two eggs, well beaten, two and one-half cupfuls of whole-wheat flour, two and one-half level teaspoonfuls of baking powder, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one-half cupful of milk.

Beat shortening and honey to a cream, add eggs and sifted flour with baking powder, salt and milk. Bake in two layers in medium oven twenty-five minutes or for loaf, in oven fifty minutes.

NUT AND CHEESE ROAST

One cupful of bread crumbs, one-half cupful of American cheese chopped fine, one cupful of walnuts, one-quarter of a cupful of finely chopped celery, juice of half a lemon, teaspoonful of sugar and one-half teaspoonful of dried mint.

Mix thoroughly, place in a heat tin, brush top with two tablespoonfuls of melted shortening, bake in medium oven forty minutes. Serve with cranberry sauce.

VENETIAN CAKES

L. R. H. Alhambra, Cal.—For the cakes beat to a cream half a cupful of butter and half a cupful of powdered sugar until light. Beat in three egg yolks, one teaspoonful of vanilla extract, half a cupful of seedless raisins and one and one-half cupfuls of sifted flour. Work off smooth dough and break off small pieces and shape into small balls about an inch in diameter and roll in powdered sugar. Place a blanched almond or pistachio nut on the top of each cake and bake for fifteen minutes on a greased baking sheet in a moderate oven.

CHOCOLATE FILLING

M. S. W., Hollywood, Cal.—Place in a double boiler one cupful of milk, a pinch of salt, and one and a half squares of chocolate, grated; when hot and smooth add two tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar, a little cold milk; stir constantly until thick and cook for ten minutes. Place in a bowl the yolks of two eggs and beat smooth with six tablespoonfuls of sugar. Pour the hot mixture over the egg mixture and stir well. Return to the double boiler and cook; stirring constantly for one minute; remove from stove, when cool, add one teaspoonful of vanilla.

CREAM FILLING

Mix four tablespoonfuls of flour with a pinch of salt and three-quarters of a cupful of sugar; add to this two slightly beaten eggs and into the glass if the brick hadn't.

Detective Lieutenant Trooper and Taylor, who are looking for the fugitive, blushingly declared.

MACKENZIE TIRYL

Clean and cut off two fresh mackerels. Place in an oblong earthenware baking dish half a cup of finely chopped onion, one tablespoonful of chopped parsley, two tablespoonfuls of sweet cider. Season with a little nutmeg and lay in the dish.

Cover the dish and cook slowly for thirty minutes. While the fish is cooking blend one tablespoonful of butter with one and one-half cupfuls of cream, add to the fish.

When the fish is done, sprinkle over all the grated rind of one lemon and one teaspoonful of cinnamon. Roll up lightly as for jelly and roll in a baking pan, brush with melted butter or milk and bake in a quick oven. Serve hot with custard.

LUNCHEON FRUIT ROLL

N. E. J. Los Angeles, Cal.—This is made by sifting two cupfuls of flour with a pinch of salt and two cupfuls of sugar, two tablespoonfuls of butter, one well-beaten egg and two-thirds of a cupful of milk. Mix all to a smooth dough and roll out on a well-floured board to one-quarter of an inch in thickness, spread with a half-cupful of soft butter, half a cupful of chopped seeded raisins, half a cupful of chopped blanched almonds, three peels and core apples, one-half cupful of sultanas, over all the grated rind of one lemon and one teaspoonful of cinnamon. Roll up lightly as for jelly and roll in a baking pan, brush with melted butter or milk and bake in a quick oven. Serve hot with custard.

BUTTER MAYONNAISE

W. R. V., Los Angeles, Cal. asks how to make mayonnaise with butter, using no oil. Place half a cupful of vinegar and a half a cupful of butter in a saucepan and bring to a boil. Beat light the yolks of two eggs with one tablespoonful of sugar and a little cayenne pepper. Draw to the side of the stove the vinegar and butter and stir in slowly the egg yolks and stir until thick. When it is cold, add one cupful of salt and pepper, the juice of one lemon and, if liked, a little whipped cream.

MEAT AND OLIVE PIE

L. D., Los Angeles, Cal.—To make have the butcher cut two pounds of veal into thin slices a quarter of an inch thick, four inches long and one inch wide. Now mix one cupful of grated bread crumbs with half a cupful of finely chopped veal, one-third of a cupful of finely chopped suet, two tablespoonfuls of chopped parsley, half a cupful of ground thyme, half a teaspoonful of ground marjoram, a seasoning of salt, pepper and ground mace, a teaspoonful of grated lemon rind, and the well-beaten yolks of three eggs. Season well with salt and pepper and place a thin strip of bacon on each slice, then spread each slice with a thin layer of the above mixture. Roll up the slices securely and place in the bottom of a well-buttered baking dish. Make small balls of the remaining mixture and place in the dish with twenty medium ripe olives. Pour over a cupful of meat gravy and a little of the fat of the dish with a good wine. Add to the pie if liked a tablespoonful of lemon juice and a tablespoonful of orange juice. Cover the pie with pastry, brush with beaten egg, cut three

RAVOT OF VEAL

Cut into even-sized small pieces two pounds of lean veal, skin removed. Cut in cubes half a pound of lean bacon. Place in a saute pan four tablespoonfuls of butter, and when it is hot add the veal and bacon, fry over a quick fire for ten minutes, then remove to meat and place on a warm plate.

Add to the butter eighteen small, peeled button onions, cook five minutes and sprinkle over them two tablespoonfuls of flour, stir until it forms a light brown, then in gradually two cups of meat stock, two tablespoonfuls of orange juice and two tablespoonfuls of cider; bring to a boil, skim off the fat, add the bacon and veal and cook for thirty minutes or until the veal is tender. Season with salt and pepper and if liked, add one can of mushrooms cut in slices twenty minutes before removing from the fire. Drain the bacon on a hot plate with points of fried bacon, strain over all the sauce and sprinkle with finely chopped parsley.

LOS ANGELES LEADS IN OFFICE RENTING

SUN REALTY HEAD IN ADDRESS SAYS SPACE DEMAND GAINS HEAVILY

A. J. Neve, vice-president of the Sun Realty Company, gave an address before local real-estate brokers last night at the Mayfair Hotel in which he stated that this city leads the United States for 1926 and thus far this year in the matter of the number of office rentals.

Disclosing that more offices are to be had here and that a greater variety of office space can be obtained in Los Angeles, proportionately speaking, than elsewhere, Mr. Neve declared that additional office space literally is being "snapped up daily."

"Thousands of dollars have been spent to get new devices that would make things more comfortable for the tenant," he declared. "Much of this equipment, however, has been spent in vain. However, it gives me great pleasure tonight to say that Los Angeles holds the national record for 1926 and thus far this year for the most offices rented anywhere any place."

GRANDSON TO FIGHT WILL OF PETERSEN

A contest of the will of Christian Petersen, Long Beach undertaker, has been filed by his grandson, Norris Petersen, 14 years of age, who complains the decedent unduly was influenced with the result that the contestant was left only a life income from $10,000, out of an estate appraised at more than $300,000. He says his grandfather was unreasonably prejudiced against him. The elder Petersen once was adjudged incompetent to make a sound will.

The contestant is the son of the deceased son of Petersen. Two living sons were made residuary legatees of the estate, and most of the income was left to the widow, Mrs. Kjerstine Petersen, during her life.

MRS. CARTER DE HAVEN ILL IN HOSPITAL HERE

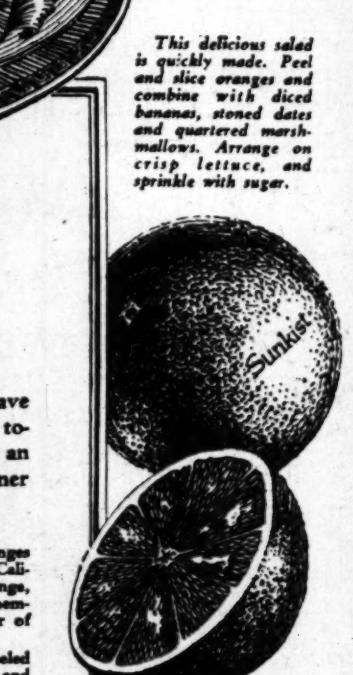

Mrs. Carter De Haven, former vaudeville actress, and wife of Carter De Haven, producer of the first Hollywood Music Box Revue, is in a local hospital recovering from a severe illness. It is believed to be influenza. According to her physician, Dr. Arthur Timme, her condition is not serious and recovery will be but a matter of a short time.

SAWTILLE HAS FIREBUG HUNT

Armed Guards Increased to Balk Incendiaries

Two More Blazes Attributed to Demented Person

Orders Issued for Seizure of Prowlers at Night

Convinced by strong evidence that a firebug is operating at Sawtelle Soldiers' Home, endangering the lives of more than 3000 veterans, some of them war cripples, the armed guard there has been strengthened greatly, according to Gov. Hadley of the home. Patrols armed to handle any emergency are being maintained to watch all buildings following two blazes believed to be incendiary, discovered and extinguished by the home fire department
since the burning last Thursday night of the main mess hall.

It was revealed yesterday that an attempt had been made on Saturday night to set fire to the chapel, Wilshire Boulevard and Bonson avenue.
Piles of papers were found in the corridor, also outside the building, where the fire was started. The incendiary waste and papers had been placed on each side of a sound-proof wall which separates the Catholic and Protestant services.

ORDERS ISSUED

The building, an old frame structure erected in 1900, was saved by quick action of the volunteer fire brigade at the home.

The third blaze started in barracks
No. 8 shower room, and investigation
revealed that the incendiary in the attempt also was of incendiary origin.

Home authorities immediately took steps to check further attempts, and orders were given to seize all suspicious persons, particularly after nightfall. Officials worked as quietly as possible in an effort to avoid unnecessary alarm
among old war crippled veterans.

"It has been the work of a fire-bug," Gov. Hadley said yesterday. He estimated the loss last Thursday night, when the main mess hall was burned, at about $100,000. The building was appraised at $100,000 in the 1924 report, and baking, cooking, dining-room and other equipment was a total loss. The governor believed that the fire, while at first attributed to defective wiring, also may have been the work of a firebug.

OTHER THEORIES

One theory expressed yesterday at the home was that Gov. Hadley's strict enforcement of regulations against drunkenness and other vices, resulting in strict discipline among men, may have led some crank to seek revenge by firing the buildings. An other was that some veteran, shell-shocked, turned into a demented who finds irresistible excitement in a spectacular blaze.

Gov. Hadley declared that precautory measures against further incendiaries will be maintained, and that a thorough investigation of evidence connecting up the three fires
with a firebug is being made by the police.

MATTERS OF IMPORTANCE

No. 8 shower room, and investigation
revealed that the incendiary in the attempt also was of incendiary origin.

GLENDALE HOLDS SUSPECT

GLENDALE, March 28.—J. Dixon, 25 years of age, believed to be wanted in Los Angeles, was arrested today on suspicion of burglary. He will be turned over to Los Angeles police tomorrow.

Gov. Hadley declared that precau-
tory measures against further incendiaries will be maintained, and
that a thorough investigation of evidence connecting up the three fires
with a firebug is being made by the police.

FAINTS DURING TRIAL

The revue is written, staged and directed entirely by students. Bud Ralston, president of the sophomore class, is director. Music for the production is by Charles M. Easton, and Gene Quay, composer of a number of popular song hits. Dances are under the direction of Melba Cornell.

Principals in the large cast are:
Bessie Robinson, Auditorium; Bud
Ralston, Store; Franklin Pierce,

ATTORNEY SUSPECTED OF FORGERY

Victor Jacobsen Arrested
on Charge of Defrauding
Clients in Auto Suits

Accused of defrauding clients in a series of damage actions, Victor Jacobsen, 36 years of age, an attorney living at 5141 Fountain avenue,
was arrested yesterday by Detective Lieutenants Wilson and Cross of the forgery detail on suspicion of forgery, police reported.

According to the officers, Jacobsen sought out persons who were the victims of accidents and offered to represent them in the recovery of damages.
He then, it is charged, would endeavor to collect a fee for his services by the company insuring the defendant and would force his client to sign the signature to the settlement check, paying the client only part of the amount, police reported.

Five asserted instances of this are complained of, the officers said. In one case, they declared, Jacobsen signed the name of Juan Garcia to a check for $6000,000, and when he signed the names of Arthur J. Lee and William Resnick. In both instances, it is charged, he paid over only part of the amount of the checks. Both checks were on the Union Auto Insurance Company.

In none of the asserted cases, according to police, did Jacobsen hold out more than $200.

Students Seek Board Cash for Swimming Pool

A swimming pool bought with their own money has been the aim of Los Angeles High School students who have been accumulating a fund to be used for that purpose since 1914. Now they have $80,000 on hand and have appealed to the Board of Education for the equivalent sum to complete the structure.

The request, presented through
E. W. Oliver, principal of the school, was made to the Board of Education
last night, who recommended that an investigation be made and estimate of the cost of such a structure be made by the business department.

The June graduating class for Los Angeles High School is expected to make the largest contribution.

Spring Fever Bit Him and He Bit Maid

Spring descended upon Beverly Hills with a bang Sunday. At midday, Bert Adams, 20 years of age, colored bootblack, was in the Beverly Hills jail serving a thirty-day sentence and Mattie Alexander, his sweetheart, was nursing a badly
bitten cheek.

The trouble all began when Adams took his girl friend for a stroll through the park, according to the story he told Justice Strelinger.

"What were you doing with the girl?" the judge asked.

"We were just neckin' a little,"
Adams answered.

"But why did you bite her?"

"I don't know, Judge. Guess it was too much biting time. I just felt full of hell."

At this point Miss Alexander interrupted the questioning. "He just up and bit me on the cheek," she said.

"The boy didn't have no right to do it at all," she gritted her teeth.

Justice Strelinger examined the marks carefully and then compared them with Adams' gleaming white teeth.

"Spring has come and gone," he said. "Thirty days in jail."

SAFEWAY STORES

DISTRIBUTION WITHOUT WASTE

The Meaning of Our Motto

Our Motto, as you have probably noticed, is: "Distribution without Waste." Perhaps you have wondered what we mean by this. It means just what it says. We strive to distribute the necessities of life—as nearly as it is humanly possible to do—with waste. By the introduction of modern economical methods we have been able to eliminate many wasteful and expensive practices in the retailing of foods—practices which formerly laid a heavy burden on the shoulders of the consumer. Through dealing in such vast quantities, we are able to avoid many customary profits and find and correct most of the usual causes of waste. These are some of the reasons why we can and do consistently sell high quality foods at such uniformly low prices. Compare these values.

—WHAT TO DO—
WHEN YOU NEED TO STORE YOUR HOUSEHOLD GOODS
—piano, automobile, trunks, rugs, victrola, paintings and silverware—
—RELY ON BEKINS SERVICE—
You should no more think of leaving valuable furnishings unguarded in your home than you would think of leaving money or precious jewels.

More and more people depend on Bekins Safe Storage—while away on a business or pleasure tour—when the new home is not quite ready—when plans for permanent residence are uncertain for one reason or another.

—WHAT TO DO—
RATHER THAN SELL FURNITURE "SECOND-HAND"
—RELY ON BEKINS SERVICE—
IT'S POOR ECONOMY TO SELL HOUSEHOLD GOODS just because you are temporarily not in need of them—you not only suffer loss in the ridiculously low price you sacrifice them at, but you need to pay extra shipping charges for placing them. HOW MUCH BETTER TO STORE YOUR GOODS IN ONE OF BEKINS FIREPROOF DEPOSITORYS.

YOU CAN HAVE OPEN OR PRIVATE LOCKED ROOM STORAGE

It is optional with you as to which you prefer. We can assure you that our service—who in some cases where our judgment is in some cases, we recommend one against the other, RATES FOR EITHER STORAGE ARE REASONABLE.

SPECIAL STORAGE FACILITIES FOR
—Pianos, victrolas, etc. (even temperatures and humidity controlled);

—Trunks and luggage (convenient and safe);

—Rugs (individually rolled and shelved in anti-moth room);

—Paintings (carefully hung and cared for);

—Silverware and other valuables (placed in special vault);

—Office Records (conveniently accessible space);

—Automobiles (proper attention to tire, batteries, etc., and cars individually covered);

—YOU MIGHT AS WELL HAVE BEKINS SERVICE. REMEMBER IT COSTS NO MORE.

BEKINS SPECIAL LOW RATE INSURANCE POLICY

enhousehold goods in storage or in transit. At as low a premium rate of $5 to $6 per $100 valuation per month you can insure against the following:

—Fire, lightning, explosion, wind-storm, tornado, cyclone, rain, hail, snow, sleet, blizzard, ice, theft, tidal waves, overflowing rivers, collapse of building, fall of elevator, wars, riots, strikes, bursting pipes, sprinkler leakage and collapse of tanks.

—RELY ON BEKINS SERVICE— Our special gas-fumigant absolutely destroys all moth life (including eggs and larvae) without hurting delicate fabrics. JUST PHONE US AND OUR REPRESENTATIVE WILL GLADLY CALL TO EXAMINE YOUR FURNISHINGS AND GIVE YOU AN ESTIMATE OF COST—there's no obligation.

ORATORS FROM MANY NATIONS

One School Represented by Four Nationalities

Two Japanese Boys on Entry List at Polytechnic

Teachers Giving Much Time to Aiding Entrants

The melting pot of nations as the United States has been termed so often, is given further expression in the international character of the entrant list from the Polytechnic High School in the fourteenth National Oratorical Contest on the Constitution. This school presents five entrants and the lands of ancestry of their forebears include Spain, England, Germany, and Japan. The contestants are a boy, two of Japanese extraction, one Spanish, one English and one German.

This quintet includes: Willie Sunakoshi, Carlos Guerra, Jack Luhring, Billie Martindale and Kay Sugahara. Sunakoshi and Sugahara are of Japanese parentage, the ancestry of Luhring traces back to Germany, that of Guerra to Old Castile and of Martindale to Albion.

However, each of the five is a youthful American, each is striving to win signal honors in his school for the best oral expression of the Constitution of the United States. The last of his birth, his pride and affection.

At Polytechnic High School the contest started with a large number of entrants who have been eliminated in the five rounds. These will meet at 11:30 a.m. next Thursday, at which time the selected school representative in the semifinals which, incidentally, will be held at this school and which will be participated in by Franklin, Jefferson, Hollywood, Lincoln, Los Angeles and Manual Arts High Schools, in addition to the home institution. The date set for the semifinals is May 6.

Considerable attention has been given to the contest by the various teachers interested. These include the teacher of history, or oral and written English. The history teacher has checked with the contestants for factual accuracy, the written-English teacher for correct expression, the oral teacher for oratorical excellence. Efforts have been extended to induce the students to prepare essays on the Constitution that, without difficulty, would lend themselves to oratory expression. This has necessitated conference and counter-conference, in each instance individual care and attention being given to the numerous entrants.

The youthful Americans of Japanese parentage are deeply interested in this work is best shown by their comments on the contest. Kay Sugahara

"The National Oratorical Contest on the Constitution, that is being sponsored by a group of patriotic newspapers of these United States, is the greatest incentive ever offered to arouse the interest of the people, both young and old, to the vital organs of our government."

Sunakoshi had a little debating experience during his Junior High School work and was a member, last year, of the boys forum, a semi-debating organization within the school.

Sunakoshi is making his oratorical debut in this contest and is a close student of the life and work of John Marshall. He says, "John Marshall's contribution to the Constitution lay in the decisions which he rendered, because these decisions established the Constitution as the rock upon which our national standards, Marshall, for justice, truth and justice, glitter as the

POLITICAL ADVERTISEMENT

VIRGIL A. MARTIN

2934 So. Hobart Blvd.

Candidate for City Council

in the Fifth Dist.

Mr. Martin has lived in the Fifth Dist. for over twenty years, and is connected with the business of the Dist. He has never been in politics, is a business man intent on a business, not a political, career. He is interested in one of the leading industrial plants on the East Side, and agreed to run only after repeated demands from the community, business and taxpayers. In his acceptance it was plainly understood that there were to be NOINGS done to reward him as a candidate for Council, except that he was to work for the best interest of the Fifth Dist. Another reason in his campaign is the fact that in order to be absolutely free he insisted on personally financing his own campaign.

He invites those, if any, who do not know him to investigate his record and his character, and the great organization with him now at once as he has many dates ahead.

Mr. Martin is the owner of the Water, Gas and Electric Co., and the Fireman's Fund, Motor Factories, and Motor Repair.

He will be in the place of his place to see the district into three or four sections, and will be in touch with the people and doing their own needs, to assist in every way possible, also to keep his district posted in all matters pertaining to their respective districts.

Capt. Guy Lewis reviewing Three Hundred and Seventh Company of the United States Marine Corps Reserves in their armory at Exposition Park last night.

Organization of the Three Hundred and Seventh Company, United States Marine Corps Reserves, the only such company west of Detroit, was assembled at the company's armory at Exposition Park last night. The new military organization is the only active company of the Marine Corps Reserve in this part of the country. There are fifty-two men enrolled, with sixty men expected. The company officers are Capt. Guy Lewis, 1st Lt. George C. Thompson, 2nd Lt. Frank J. Clegg, and 3rd Lt. Frank J. Clegg. The company drills every night in the grand stand at Exposition Park formerly used as an armory. The men are required to be regular and pay for each night's drill and two weeks annually at the Marine base at San Diego. The company is distinguished by the fact that it is an active company in its field reserve, corresponding to its reserve, corresponding being practically completed, the company is not seeking recruits but will place applications on file.

The honor of being the first woman Justice of Peace in the United States rests upon the shoulders of Mrs. Catherine W. McCullough of Chicago. She has been practicing law in Chicago for the past forty years.

ATTORNEY W. H. DEHM DIES

Widely Known Pioneer Succumbs to Heart Disease; Funeral Arranged for Tomorrow

W. Harry Dehm, 50 years of age, one of the outstanding authorities in the United States on probate and medical protective law, and former legal partner of the late Earl Rogers, and Frank Dominguez, died yesterday morning at his residence, 419 South Van Ness avenue, from heart disease, five minutes after he had told his wife he felt "the end is near."

Funeral services will be conducted tomorrow at 2 p.m. from the Elie Clair Orthodox chapel, under auspices of Elie's Lodge, No. 90, located in the West Lawn Cemetery with special services under supervision of the Arlington Lodge of Masons, or both of which he was a member.

FROM ILLINOIS

A native of Illinois, Mr. Dehm came to California with his parents at an early age, locating in San Diego.

Working his way through the University of California he graduated in 1908 with a B. S. degree.

He then entered the law school of the University of California in 1911, Gibson, Tracy & Tichenor, here, where he read law until 1913, when he was admitted to the bar.

Attracted by the ability of Mr. Dehm and Miller M. Cohen, then occupying part of the law office of Earl Rogers and Frank Dominguez decided in 1913 to organize the law firm of Rogers, Dominguez and Cohen. Cohen and Cohen is the only survivor of what was once one of the most celebrated law firms west of the Mississippi.

WIDE PRACTICE

Mr. Dehm was engaged in law practice with Mr. Cohen in the Broadway, Arden Building up to the time of his death. In this period he had built up a remarkable clientele as a criminal lawyer, but since 1921 he had been active almost exclusively in the field of probate.

After the death of Mr. Dehm immediately after Dr. Wheeler's discovery revealed that the mysterious two men and their woman companion had left, although they had been in the place but a few minutes.

Mr. Dehm was unable to explain any possible motive for the attack, except that they were several valuable diamonds.

Firemen Lose Fight to Save Life of Child

Despite efforts by firemen striving with an inhalator to save the life of Pauline Ferrara, 6-months-old daughter of John and Mary Ferrara, 683 West Tenth street, San Pedro, the child died yesterday. The battle for the life of the little girl, who had suffered from bronchitis and measles, had continued at intervals for four days.

Twice the child was revived by firemen, but the third crisis, resulting in twelve hours' steady work at artificial respiration, was considered at intervals, proved fatal. Firemen John A. Hartman, Charles J. Main, R. T. Robertson, R. Nelson and E. T. Johnson waged the fight for the child's life.

Jury Vindicates District Attorney of San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, March 28. (AP)—The San Francisco county grand jury dismissed the charge of irregularities in the District Attorney's office to-night by reporting that after examining the books of Dist.-Atty. Brady, there was no ground for accusations that funds had been misappropriated.

Twelve presenters, including

Brady's wife present at the grand jury session which grew out of charges of irregularities in Brady's office in connection with an asserted shortage of money in the office of the Dist.-Atty. former book-keeper in the Dist.-Atty's office, and now facing trial for murder as a result of the "molder war" for the office.

SHARP ISSUE IN BLACKTON SUIT

Question of Fingernails and Hobnails Enters Case

One or Other May Become Deciding Factor

Proceedings Declared Due for Jury Today

Even if De Merveux does bite his fingernails, J. Stuart Blackton wore hobnails, so there.

This is the gist of what everyone hailed with relief as the last day's testimony in the suit of the Hollywood fencing master for $25,000 damages from the pioneer film producer in Judge Gates's Superior Court yesterday.

This really means more than the mere telling would indicate. For if De Merveux had been biting his fingernails during the morning of April 10, 1924, he thinks that will hold any jurymen who might otherwise be inclined to believe he scratched Mrs. Blackton's neck. And, on the other hand, jurymen who believe Mrs. Blackton's defense that morning are relied upon not to take much stock in De Merveux's representations that he was taken by surprise when Blackton whipped him.

Numerous witnesses appeared before Judge Gates yesterday to swear that De Merveux was a confirmed nail-biter, an assertion which Albert A. Kidder, attorney for Blackton, showed a tendency to doubt. One of them was a Hollywood manicurist who said that away back in 1924 she had given the Frenchman "treatment to break him of the habit, but that he was too far gone for her to take effect." Another woman said she had noted the condition of his nails when he came to her home once to fix her radio.

HORNAILS SHOWN

As for the hobnails, Attorney Kidder showed the court the very nails themselves. He produced as an exhibit a stout, leather-bound pair of rough shoes with plenty of hobnails in them, and had Blackton testify they were the very shoes he wore the morning of the whipping, or assault, as De Merveux characterizes it. No one could wear such shoes and take anyone by surprise, Kidder contended.

De Merveux was on the stand again and added to his account, of the events of that April morning.

"Mrs. Blackton found me packing my suit case," he said. "She asked me why I was leaving, and I told her I thought it was the only honorable thing for me to do."

It was this, Mr. Merveux said, that Mrs. Blackton leaped at him and scratched him up, to be followed later by Blackton with a horsewhip.

CASE GOING TO JURY

In a deposition previously read to the jury Mrs. Blackton had related that De Merveux attacked her because she had discharged him from whatever employment he held in the Blackton household.

Today, positively and without fail, it was announced yesterday, the case will go to the jury. Attorney Lorin Andrews, counsel for De Merveux, will be given just two hours to show why the defendant, in his opinion, entitled to the $25,000 damages he asks. An equal period has been allowed to Attorney Kidder to explain why De Merveux is entitled to nothing. The trial, which will all be up to the six men and six women who have heard the testimony.

De Merveux gave the jury one smile yesterday. One of the famous Blackton Christmas postcards signed "B. H. Blackton" made a good impression.

"And what does the 'B. H.' stand for?" asked Attorney Andrews.

"Bug house," the Frenchman replied briefly.

FOUR NAMED IN SUIT OVER LAND BONDS

Action Asks $590,000 as Damages in Financing of Irrigation District

Charged with breach of contract in connection with the asserted financing of San Joaquin Valley Irrigation district bonds, Marco Hellman, Irving Hoffman, Joe Topitzky and other men, were named defendants in a suit for $500,000 damages filed yesterday in Superior Court.

The action was brought in the name of the Bondholders' Reorganization Committee of the San Joaquin Valley Farm Land Company's First and Consolidated Mortgage and Trust Co. of Los Angeles, with G. Parker Toms, J. E. Dulin, James A. Clay, L. H. Wight and Charles S. Thomas appearing as individual plaintiffs.

HINGES ON AGREEMENT

The complaint hinges on an agreement said to have been drawn by the plaintiff's attorney, J. W. Gates, on March 29, last, relating to the meeting of interest and principal on certain irrigation district bonds involved in a "bondholders" reorganization agreement.

According to the complaint, the defendants failed to keep their part of the asserted contract, and as a result the plaintiff charged that the bondholders and farmers on these lands failed to make payments on bonds, thereby damaging the plaintiffs to the amount asked in the complaint.

The case was prepared and filed by Attorneys Bauer, Wright &amp; McDonald.

GIVE STATEMENTS

Irving Hellman, named as one of the defendants, declared he has no knowledge of the basis of the suit, and could not explain the action.

Mr. Topitzky also was not to explain. He said he had been named a director in a San Joaquin land company, but could not say whether the suit had any connection with that. Mr. Topitzky further said a formal statement would be issued to day.

Mr. Jans, another defendant, declared the suit is based on a dispute over the plaintiff's charge that he and his associates in the bondholders' reorganization in connection with financing certain projects. He said he could not make a detailed statement until he reviewed the complaint today.

FUNERAL SERVICE TODAY FOR SCULPTOR

Statues Made by Local Artist to be Draped With Flowers

FUNERAL services for Burt William Johnson, sculptor, will be conducted at 11 a.m. today at the Claremont Church, Claremont. As a tribute to his life and work, the statue of "Sergeant Major at Bridges Hall" and the "Memorial Statue at Pomona, which is regarded as his greatest work, have been decorated with flowers.

Mr. Johnson has been ill in Hospital for three years, but continued his work. His decorations for the Fine Arts Building are practically completed. On his last day he was engaged in modeling, from his little daughter, Cynthia Mae, a statue for the "Memorial Statue at Pomona." He recently completed a novel.

Many of Mr. Johnson's best works are at Claremont and Pomona. Among his works are "Spanish Music," "Bridges Hall" or "Music," "The Little Director" in the Bridges Garden at San Diego; the War Memorial, the Greek theater panel and Cook Memorial tablet at Pomona College; a fountain statue in Huntington Park; a horse named "Clyde" at La Crosse, Wis.; the "Returned Soldier" at Woodville, Long Island.

Mr. Johnson leaves his widow, two children, Harvey William and Cynthia Mae; two brothers, Maurice Johnson and Clarence, and a son, John of Atlanta, and three sisters, Mrs. Nora Case, Mrs. Georgia Givens, and Mrs. Annetta Saint-Gaudens, wife of

Burt W. Johnson and His Memorial Group in Pomona

ROGERS RETURNING TO FILMS

Boss of Beverly Hills to Do Pantomime of Wisecracks for Screen This Summer at First National and Expects to Quit Roving for Two Months

Mayor Will Rogers, bounding boy of Beverly Hills, is scheduled to settle down in his home town for at least two months this summer. The Congress chiding, king kidding, California humorist expects to re-enter motion pictures to do pantomime of his wisecracks for the world.

It was further revealed that a tentative agreement has been made between Rogers and the First National Pictures, S. E. H. Morris, who directed the motion-picture firm in the deal, admitted he expects to obtain $10,000.

Jane Martin, screen writer, already has been engaged to prepare the continuity for Rogers's first picture when he returns. The nature of the play, however, was kept secret.

Rogers's entrance as a motion-picture star will not be an experiment, for the comedian was christened in the Speaker voiced the opinion that there would have been no prohibition problem today if the judges during the first 10 months of prohibition had imposed the maximum penalty for violations of the Volstead Act or if Federal and State Judges had imposed maximum penalties during the last seven years.

The speaker cited the fact that for the last year ending June 30, more than 7000 arrests for liquor law violations had been made in Los Angeles, a better record than that of any other city in the department.

Chief Davis said the fine and jail sentences given have been so light that the profit has not been taken away from the bootlegging business and that the number of fines and jail sentences would be ineffective unless they found guilty of flouting the Constitution are meted out the punishment they deserve.

The speaker pleaded for the strict and unanimous support of his campaign to make law observance of the law.

OWNER OF EUCALYPTUS TREES' FORBEARS VISITS LOS ANGELES

W. K. Burnsides of Melbourne, Australia, who owns the daddy and the grand-daddy of the stately eucalyptus which decorates so much of Southern California's landscape, says the tree has been converted to a base use than it deserves here in its adopted land.

Back in Australia, where he owns 300,000 acres of virgin eucalyptus forest and leases much more from the government, the leaves are distilled into oil, thymol, synthetic menthol and even soap and fruit sprays, Mr. Burnsides said. "We use it to break up colds and you use it for a wind-break," he remarked with a smile.

The original eucalyptus tree from which the present growth in California was started, came from the forest Mr. Burnsides now owns in Australia. He is governing director of the W. K. Burnsides, Ltd., which manufactures the greater part of the world's supply of eucalyptus products.

The eucalyptus trees are very rapid growers and though the trees are cut down for some of the products, shoots quickly spring up from the stumps and grow into new trees, he said. Mr. Burnsides is a guest at the Ambassador.
